Dear Mr. Vaughan:

In August, I asked for your help in promoting some 300 Virginia Energy Office "Home Energy Cost-Cutting Clinics" in more than 100 locations throughout the State. I want to formally acknowledge your support and to personally thank you.

More than 16,500 persons attended our clinics during October, making the program the most successful home energy conservation effort in the country. Through your generous assistance, the Virginia Energy Office was able to undertake an effort to conserve energy by enabling homeowners to save money on their heating and cooling bills. You have helped us demonstrate that government and community-minded persons can work together to help our citizens help themselves.

The Virginia Energy Office intends to continue an energetic, ambitious energy conservation program. In addition to further efforts in the residential field, we are involved in a broad program of commercial and industrial energy conservation. Again, I appreciate their energy costs. I hope you will be able to continue your assistance to some degree.

I am indebted to you and your newspaper for your invaluable contribution to us and to your public. You are truly an asset to your community.

Yours truly,
Louis R. Lawson, Jr.

TO THE EDITOR:

I appreciate very much this opportunity to express publicly, in your Letters to the Editor section, my deep appreciation to all the Virginians who helped me during the long months of my campaign for Lieutenant Governor and to thank all the voters who placed their faith in me on Nov. 8.

I am grateful for the opportunity to serve as Lieutenant Governor, and I look forward to working with Virginians from all over our state as we help build a future we can face with confidence and hope.

Sincerely,
Charles S. Robb

Mrs. Knight's Class 4-H Club Meeting

Wednesday, Nov. 16, Mrs. Knight's class had their third 4-H meeting. Our president is Darrell Conner, vice-president, Russell Walton, secretary, Lisa Williamson; reporter, Sheila Mullins; recreation leaders, Betsy Wingfield and Steven Greenbaum. Mrs. Smith talked about 4-H public speaking in January. The ribbons and trophies will be provided by our sponsor, The Farmers National Bank. We talked about pine seedlings. Each year, the Virginia Division of Forestry sponsors a 4-H pine seedling program. 4-H members can receive free of charge either 25 or 50 loblolly pine seedlings if they have a suitable place to plant the trees. If you're interested, talk with your parents and plan to sign up. Mr. Sweet will have the forms at our December 14th meeting. Sheila Mullins led us in the American Pledge. Alex Almond led us in the 4-H pledge.

We played Thanksgiving Menu. Susan Booker won first place; Sheila Mullins won 2nd; and Alex Almond won 3rd. Mrs. Walton showed us how to make gifts out of scraps. We put our names in a jar and Susan Booker, Jeannice Bartelt and Brett Marston were the names drawn. They won a bookmark. Our next meeting is Dec. 14th.

NHS Banquet

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, a banquet was held at the Appomattox County High School cafeteria for all new members of the National Honor Society.

The menu for the occasion was a variety of foods and desserts provided by the old members of the club. After the dinner, the new and very welcomed members were presented with their National Honor Society certicates.

Besides the members and officers of the club. Also present were the club co-sponsors, Mrs. Mary Turner and Mr. Larry Robinson, who was accompanied by his wife, and a special guest who was a former teacher at ACHS, and a former co-sponsor of the National Honor Society, Mary Grey Holland.

The night was an enjoyable one and was topped off with a special presentation of a lovely bracelet, from all members, to Mrs. Turner who will be leaving the club and school very shortly in the future. She will be missed greatly by everyone at ACHS.

TOPS News

The November 17, 1977 meeting of TOPS was called to order by Gaye Stafford - Leader. The members recited the TOPS pledge.

In just two weeks, five new members was added to the club's roll. They are as follows: Sue Thomas, Cindy Watson, Rachel Stanley, Diane Miller and Thelma Almond. By the end of the first week on the TOPS program Cindy Watson had lost 9 pounds and Diane Miller had lost 8¼. They are really doing a grand job.

Susan Martin had charge of the program for the weekly meeting. The topic was "Ten Excuses For Being Fat." Susan presented the program in a way that included everyone. There was a discussion after every point. The program was informative and interesting.

TOPS is not a social club but there is a lot of socializing going on at every meeting. Everyone needs everyone else. All the girls ask each other what or how they did for the week. They are congratulated or told to work harder next week. No one is made to feel bad. Everyone cares about the other person and wishes her well.

The next meeting of TOPS will be held December 1, 1977. Fidelity Branch Bank - Weigh-in - 6:30. Meeting 7:00.

Don't forget that if you come to the next meeting with a gain you will have to pay a fine of .50. This is because of the Thanksgiving holiday. After all major holidays this applies. So be good this week, girls.

The Pastor Speaks

"In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you." 1 Thess 5:18.

In everything give thanks. We are usually thankful for the good and beautiful and happy things of life. But it is God's will that we be thankful for ALL things in life, and even for the things that are not at first so easy to be thankful for. How can a person be thankful for affliction, darkness, trail, discipline, catastrophy, death, suffering, nakedness, and hunger to mention only a few.

Be thankful for affliction, for it will work for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory. 2 Cor. 4:17. Be thankful for darkness, for by contrast the light of truth stands out in clearer rays. John 1:4-5.

Be thankful for tribulation, for you will receive a crown of life. Rev. 2:10.

Be thankful for trials, for by them is your character perfected unto the glory of God. 1 Pet. 1:7.

Be thankful for death, for it will soon be swallowed up in victory, and the works of those who die in the Lord follow them. 1 Cor. 15:54; Rev. 14:13.

Be thankful for the Lord's discipline, for it declares to you His love. Heb 12:6-7; Rev. 3:19.

Be thankful for suffering with Christ, for you will be made glad with exceeding joy. 1 Pet.4:13.

Be thankful for nakedness, for you will be clothed in the white garments of God's righteousness. Rev. 3:5.

Be thankful for hunger, for you will eat the hidden manna, the fruit of the tree of life, and drink of the water of life. Rev. 2:7.

Be thankful for catastrophy by aid, land and sea, for it declares that Jesus is soon to return to put an end to the things we are not usually thankful for.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE GREATEST?

Lesson for November 27, 1977

Background Scripture: Luke 22:24-27; Mark 9:33-37
Devotional Reading: Mark 10:35-45

As you read these words the 1977 scholastic and intercollegiate football season will be just about over. In various parts of the country students will deck their respective campuses with signs and banners proclaiming: "WE'RE NUMBER ONE!" Newspapers will carry stories about those teams being selected to play in the various bowl games and there will be endless speculations about the individual players who have won various trophies and berths on the several All-America teams.

Rev. Althouse

Not so with you

The scramble for greatness on the football gridiron is simply a reflection of one of the dynamics that is part of life in our society: the struggle for pre-eminence. Everybody must either excel in something or at least identify with some person or group who does. This is true in sports, in academics, in social life, in politics—in short, in everything that humans do.

It is not so surprising then that Jesus' disciples should have been concerned with rank and prominence within their small group. They knew that someone had to be the greatest disciple, the head apostle, and it was understandable that they could not agree on who it should be.

When Jesus realized what they were discussing among themselves, he could have reacted in one of two ways. On the one hand, he might have scolded them severely for their lack of humility and understanding. How dare they let their egos take over!

But Jesus responded in a much more positive way. He knew that it was human nature to seek prominence. So, he responded, not by criticizing them, but by telling them how they could be great in the kingdom of God. The society in which they lived judged greatness in terms of authority and sheer power. "But not so with you," said Jesus, "let the greatest among you become as the youngest, and the leader as one who serves" (Luke 22:26).

The way to be first

The greatest in the kingdom of God, said Jesus, are those who, like him, are most zealous in serving others. By virtue of his identity and God-given role, Jesus could claim ultimate pre-eminence, but instead: "...I am among you as one who serves" (22:27). John tells us that Jesus demonstrated what he said above on the night he was betrayed when he took a towel and a basin and humbly washed his disciples' feet. By the act of humble service, freely and lovingly given, Jesus demonstrated that he was Lord of all.

Almost two thousand years later and Jesus' teaching on greatness is much known and little taken seriously. Even in the church we seem to regard as preeminent those who wield authority and power, who can command attention and praise. How long will it take us to learn the true meaning of what it means to be the greatest?

Warm and proud these contestants will be this winter, as they parade through the season with their do-it-yourself wool garments.

Make It Yourself With Wool Contest

The State Make-It-Yourself with Wool Contest was held November 19, 1977 at Longwood College in Farmville.

Appomattox County, as well as many others, was represented well by its youngsters who had constructed wool garments for the contest.

In the pre-teen category, Jane Guill won first place with her jumper and first place for having the best constructed garment made from 100% wool. Laura Walton won first place in skirts and second place in the vest competition. Janis Richardson won third place in the jumper category.

Laurie McLean and Cheryl Walton entered lovely, well constructed garments in the junior division of the contest.

Beverly Harvey, who competed in the Senior Division, won first place with her beautiful coat, and first place for having the best constructed garment made from 100% wool. This young lady was also selected as second runner-up to go to regional competition.

Mrs. Carolyn Maxwell, a former state contest winner, acted as fashion show coordinator for the group of contestants along with Claudette Smith, your local "friendly extension agent." Mrs. Madeline Thomas participated as a judge in the contest.

Proud, of these young ladies, is what Appomattox County should be for their achievements.
